(By Havas Agency)

Paris, 18th—Some papers state that differences have arisen between the Princes Victor and Louis Bonaparte, and add that many of the followers of the former have gone over to Prince Louis Bonaparte's side after learning the contents of Prince Jerome Napoleon's will.

Barcelona, 18th—The number of unemployed workmen here and in Catalunia increase daily. Serious disturbances are feared on the 1st May.

Vienna, 18th—The investigation regarding the assassination of the Finance Minister actively continues. Secrecy is maintained, but the result of the examination of the many prisoners, proves that the conspiracy was got up to assassinate the Chief of the Cabinet, Mr. Stambuloff.

THE CRISIS THICKENS.

Every day brings fresh evidence of the wide-spread effects of the present crisis. The week that has just closed has seen the suspension of the Madero port-works, and the bankruptcy of the Municipal Orphanage. The Madero port-work has already cost about four millions sterling or 70 millions currency, an expenditure too rashly undertaken, as the Republic was labouring under a suspension of specie-payments at the time the work was begun. It is doubtful whether any person now existing in Buenos Ayres will live to see the completion of these works. As for the Orphanage we are happy to say that the ladies of the Beneficencia Society took up the matter with such energy that a subscription was promptly raised on the Bolsa amounting to 10,000$.

The suspension of the port-works will have thrown out of employment some thousands of men, a matter which cannot fail to cause much sympathy and a certain amount of anxiety. Whatever arrangement may be made between the Government and the contractors it should be expressly stipulated that either party should offer a free passage to Europe to the employees.

It is not so easy to understand the difficulties that have befallen the Municipal Orphanage, since the Municipality received last August 10 millions of the new issue of shinplasters. We shall, probably, be told that the Municipality has been for some years hopelessly bankrupt, and that if Pres. Pellegrini had given it 20 millions last year it would have been insufficient. But this is no excuse for allowing the charitable institutions of the city to run in danger of being closed up for want of money to pay the baker and butcher. The Orphanage in question only two years ago received a legacy of £24,000 from the late John Denbey, an old merchant of this city; a sum which (unless invested in Cedulas) would provide a handsome annual revenue for the institution. We should like to hear what has become of the money?

Meantime such has been the waste of municipal money in late years, especially in the Alvear Boulevard and tomfooleries at the Recoleta, that we cannot be surprised if we hear next week that another Patriotic Loan is required to prevent the hospitals and orphanages from being closed for want of funds.

There is a universality about the present crisis which is unprecedented. First of all the National Government suspends payment for 3 years in London; then the Government of the Province of Buenos Ayres does the same; then the Upper Provinces declare "Non-possumus," and finally the Municipality of Buenos Ayres is absolutely penniless. As for the State-banks, their doors are closed, and the depositors of the Provincial Bank are offered debentures for the amount of their deposits, or told that they may sign a Moratorio for two years.

We are, however, only at the beginning of the crisis, and may see strange developments in one month after another. We have seen all business suspended for 5 days, to raise a Patriotic Loan, the effect of which, as Governor Costa says, was merely to prolong the agony of the Provincial Bank three weeks. Still more wonderful things must come to pass before the crisis is over. The first remedial step has been taken, in closing the State banks, the second will be a reform of the currency, and then the Argentine Republic will begin to recover from its present prostration.

THE SITUATION.

PRES. PELLEGRINI'S BANK SCHEME.

It is an open secret that for months past the National Government cherished the idea of liquidating the State banks, and starting on their remains a single great bank of issue. The decree of the 7th inst. gave shape to this idea, but in view of the very bitter opposition of the La Plata Government, and of the political party predominating in the province, the National Government has retraced its steps and proposed another "modus operandi," viz.: The present names of the National Bank and of the Provincial Bank of Buenos Aires to be maintained, but both banks to be thoroughly sundered from State connection and to be turned into joint-stock concerns, these to be managed by boards appointed by shareholders and to be supervised by inspectors of the National and Provincial Governments respectively. The National Bank and the branch of the Provincial Bank in this city to be amalgated into one joint-stock bank; the new Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres to comprise the head-house in La Plata and the branches in the province. The new National Bank will absorb in its capital the shares of the present national bank at a price to be fixed by the Board of the former. The founders of the new Provincial Bank shall be the depositors of the actual provincial bank; should depositors refuse this, they shall be invited to accept debentures of the bank at a rate of interest and sinking funds that will be fixed later on. Those depositors who refuse to become founders or accept debentures will be obliged to give the bank a "moratorium" of two years to be enforced by law of Congress.

A special committee is to be named by the National and Provincial Governments to study the portfolios of the two banks to determine the capital of the Provincial Bank, that the Provincial Government may be credited with the capital it holds in it and receive dividends proportionately as a shareholder in the new provincial bank. The Legislature of the province shall be at liberty to sell the share of the Government in the bank's capital when deemed convenient: and in that case the same shall be converted into ordinary shares of the Bank. Those depositors of the two state banks who may become founders in the new concerns shall meet in assembly here and in La Plata, respectively, to adopt the measures they may consider convenient; and at once appoint a special committee to represent their interests near the Governments. The respective shareholders shall discuss the new banking charters before these are sent to Congress or the La Plata Legislature. Once the Boards of management are proved, a subscription will be opened to complete the capital of the banks. The holders of internal bonds shall enjoy the option of converting their bonds into shares of the new banks.

The above are the general outlines of the banking scheme, and we understand that they have been framed in Cabinet Council to conciliate the very radical views of the Provincial party. We may, however, add that this scheme is an ultimatum, and if Governor Costa is unwise enough to refuse it, then the National Government will return to its old love, the single bank of issue, and let the Provincial Bank succumb, for the Provincial Government is powerless to raise it, and the National Government is determined "coute que coute" not to issue any more paper-money.

THE POTOSI MAILS.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

Rio Janeyro, 7th April.

The Rio News has the following items:—

We trust that some good friend of Dr. Antonio Prado, who is writing letters in Europe about the advantages which Brazil offers to the immigrant, will call his attention to the sufferings of those who arrive here in the hot season. About half of the deaths in this city are classified as "indigentes", a great part of whom are poor immigrants. It is no better than murder to send immigrants here in the hot season and during an epidemic.

Much is expected from the committee of bankers now engaged in straightening up the financial position here. If the men on the committee do not know all about the matter, no one can; for every one of them has been in direct contact with the wicked speculation raging here, and some perhaps interested in it. We do not believe any serviceable results are to be obtained—unless it is decided to precipitate a general liquidation.

Dr. Alberto Torres, an orignal republican, thinks that the present Government is the most incompetent and dishonest one the country has ever had.

At Bocaina, near Santos, were found on the 30th ult, the dead bodies of two women who had arrived as passengers on the steamer Duchessa di Genova. On these bodies was a considerable sum of money in gold and silver. It is supposed that drowning was the cause of their death.

The immigrant arrivals at Santos last month numbered 4,355, including 4,039 for Government account. Among the arrivals we notice 219 British.

MONTEVIDEO.

(From the "Montevideo Times.")

The social season has been brilliantly opened by the marriage, which took place on Wednesday, of Miss Macadam, for several seasons one of the belles of Montevidean society, to Mr. John Hughes, estanciero of Rojas, Argentine Republic. The religious ceremony took place in the evening in the Church of San Francisco, which was brilliantly illuminated for the occasion. Miss Harvey, Miss Gerty Harvey and the three Misses Hughes acted as bridesmaids. How charming they and the bride looked, and how much their elegant dresses were admired, we are incompetent to describe, and therefore leave it to the imagination of readers. The large church was well filled with a congregation representing all the English community, and including a large sprinkling of friends from Buenos Ayres. The exceedingly short service being concluded, the bridal party returned to the house of the bride's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Zabala 83, where later in the evening a brilliant ball was given, attended by the élite of English society in Montevideo, in fact one of the most representative gatherings we have seen for some time. We will not attempt the vain task of enumerating the names of those present, but even the capacious and charmingly decorated ball-room of this hospitable house was found too small for the many couples who thronged to dance. Speech-making being not unwisely prohibited, the health of the happy pair was proposed in a few simple words by Mr. A. Harley, and was drunk to hearty cheers. Dancing was kept up with vigour till after 4 a.m. and all present agreed that they had rarely enjoyed a more pleasant evening. One room was devoted to the display of the very numerous wedding presents, many of them exceedingly handsome and valuable. The hall and passages were also crowded with sumptuous bouquets and beautiful baskets of flowers. Before leaving for their home the newly married couple will spend a short honeymoon in the Prado Hotel.

Yesterday's Siglo contains an interesting letter from an Oriental traveller in London, respecting Mr. Casey's efforts to raise a loan there, but we think the writer rather exaggerates when he says that Mr. Casey's "mere presence" there gave rise to alarm. However, we recommend our readers to look up the letter for themselves.

White satin and orangne blossoms are likely to be in demand this season, as we hear of several engagements announced amongst members of the English colony, though, naturally, we will not take the liberty of mentioning names. We may also add that we have heard some engagements reported which we know do not exist, and which would cause surprise to the parties concerned.

We hear on most reliable authority that the active Minister of Finance is giving great attention to the question of railway guarantees, which is of the greatest importance to the credit of the Republic in England. Although at present ha is unable to offer any definite immediate solution of the difficulties pending, we are enabled to state that he has expressed the intention of arranging, from the 31st of May, to set aside a fixed sum out of the monthly revenue, to meet these guarantees, in the same manner as has been done to meet the service of the Unified Debt, hitherto paid with admirable punctuality.

Such an arrangement seems very feasible and practical, and we are sure that the news of its being carried out would have an excellent effect in the London market, where the present delay and doubt about the railway guarantees is materially affecting the credit of the Republic and hindering railway enterprise and development.

The port scheme preferred by the Board of Public Works, and which will be recommended to the Chambers for approval is that presented by Sr. Rigoni. The Board, however, suggest certain modifications of the original scheme. As we understand that the report of the Board is to be published shortly, we defer for the present any description of the scheme, the more especially as it is stated, though we cannot guarantee the authority, that no steps will be taken to put the scheme in practice until the finances and situation of the Republic are in a more flourishing condition.

The scheme in question figures as No. 15 in the sketches of the plans published in the Razon of July 31, 1889, where it also bears the name of P. Caravagno. It is, at first sight, one of the least pretentious of the 21 schemes therein delineated. Until recently it has not been mentioned as one of the schemes likely to be accepted.

This will be rather a blow to several speculative capitalists who had fathered various schemes, some of them wildly pretentious, more with the idea of providing further material for speculation than of building a genuine port, and some of whom openly counted on their "influence" with the authorities to secure their acceptation. It will be remembered that before the Board of Works had even commenced to study the schemes, more than one such capitalist openly announced that his scheme was the favoured one, and did not hesitate to publish entirely false and unfounded reports in the papers to that effect.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

ODDS AND ENDS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mar. 19.

The Exchange Telegraph Company states that Messrs. Baring Brothers have to-day received a telegram from the manager of the Bank of the Province of Buenos Ayres, who had previously informed them by telegraph that the remittances for the service of the 1882-86 loan would be mailed on the 5th March. The executive of the Province of Buenos Ayres has not got it in its power to make the remittances for the service of the Six per cent. loan of 1882 and 1886. The remittance for the service of the Provincial loan of 1883 was made before the occurrence of recent events, which leave the executive powerless to use the funds of the Provincial Bank. Dr. Plaza is commissioned by the Government of the Province to make an arrangement similar to that made with the National Government.

The telegram quoted appears only in the special editions of this evening's London papers, but it was known on the Stock Exchange with the effect of causing Buenos Ayres loans to fall, but Cedulas and other Argentine stocks held their ground. The little "boom" that had been apparent in Argentines seems, however, to have been checked. Uruguay Bonds, on the contrary, had a sharp rise of 3 ¼, owing to the news of the loan made by the Brazilian bankers, and the announcement of the payment of the Five per cent. coupons. On the 21st, by the Pacific supplementary, there may be more to say on financial matters. Meanwhile I enclose an article from the Financial Times of to-day on the Uruguay loan, which is not very important, but more or less authentic. Mr. Casey's prospects of carrying through his objects continue favourable.

You would receive by the 'Coleridge' the first accounts of the loss of the British s.s. 'Utopia' by collision with the ram of H.M.S. 'Anson' at Gibraltar. The loss of life is now known to be much more serious than was at first thought. A telegram to the owners, Messrs. Henderson, says there were 880 souls on board, of whom only about 290 passengers and the captain and some of the crew were saved. The total loss will probably be more or less 580, or 576, but all the details have not yet arrived. The electric lights of the ships of war were turned on the ill-fated ship as she was sinking, and the horrible struggle for life on board was plainly visible to the people on shore, which was only three or four hundred yards off. The behaviour of the crews of the British men-of-war and of the "Freza" a Swedish frigate at anchor in the bay was splendid, resulting indeed in the swamping of one of the boats, and the loss of two or three of the crew of the "Anson." The weather was so rough, the ship boats could not approach the "Utopia," which sank in a few minutes. All that could be done was to save some of the mass of poor creatures struggling in the water, and clinging to the rigging and spars. The masts and part of the funnel of the "Utopia" are now visible. She sank in comparatively shallow water.

Mr. Blowitz in his Paris telegram today, in speaking of the coming recall of M. Herbette from Berlin, a step which has long since been decided upon but not completed so that it might not appear as a sequel of the Empress Frederick incident, says that the tension between France and Germany is so acute that no diplomatic question is brought forward, so that even an incapable Ambassador might remain at Berlin without creating further difficulties.

There was a time when such an announcement would have sent down consols. Now even an Emperor's sayings are disregarded. The fatalistic world waits patiently for the unexpected. Prince Bismarck's Hamburg organ has recommenced its attacks on the Government.

As promoters go, John Bull Allen is a finely marked specimen. Examined at the Bankruptcy court yesterday he acknowledged that he made his first appearance as a bankrupt years ago in Barrow-in-Furness. He observed incidentally that all the statements he made there in regard to his accounts and identity were false. He had since served five years' penal servitude for fraud; and upon his release he came to London and engaged in company promotion. He had to pay £10,000 deposit on two breweries belonging to a Brewery company he was promoting. On being asked what became of the £10,000; he replied that he lost it on the Stock Exchange. This gentleman had promoted the Pacific Trading Company that intended to purchase the stores, etc. on the Pacific slopes and to make a profit of £40,000 a year. The company did not go to allotment. He had also promoted Petzolt and Company. He did not know what the assets were or whether his creditors got 1s. in the pound; he never troubled to inquire. The case was adjourned for further accounts.

BUENOS AYRES HARBOUR WORKS.

The fourth ordinary meeting of the certificate-holders in the Buenos Ayres Harbour Works Trust was held yesterday at the City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street, Mr. Geo. W. Drabble in the chair. The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, referred to observations which had been made as to its meagre character. It was a financial trust, and all they had to do was to render a balance-sheet. However, the report of Messrs Hawkshaw and Hayter gave pretty full details as to the progress of the work. They would notice that the liabilities were the same as in previous balance-sheets, that was to say, that the £968,000 which figured at the head of liabilities was the product of the million of certificates which were held by the certificate holders. The main point of difference in the balance-sheet this year was on the side of the assets. Advances against works certificates represented no less a sum than £1,027,906 13s. 3d. He would remind them, in explanation, how the trust worked. When they received the trust account, of course, the regulations of the trust obliged the trustees to hand over the amounts month by month as represented by what were called works certificates. This had been done with the greatest regularity up to the present time. As the work went on, and as the certificates were approved and vised by the Government, upon these certificates the London and River Plate Bank, their agents in Buenos Ayres, gave the requisite cash, and received as their security the certificates, which were practically the same thing as the Port bonds. At the close of each section the Government recouped the trust in cash for the advances they had been making month by month. On the completion of the 3rd section the new Government found it impossible to recoup the trust in cash. Seeing, however, the position in which Mr. Madero, the concessionaire, was placed, the Government agreed that they would go on, month by month, making advances out of other funds to keep the works alive and proceeding. The trustees were advised to hold their hands and be certain that, sooner or later, advances against certificates would be made, either in cash or in Port bonds. This was the explanation which had been given to them by Mr. Madero, and the whole thing rested on the guarantees of Mr. Madero, which guarantees he hoped were substantial. A large amount of work had been carried through, and the present position of the port was entirely satisfactory.

The Solicitor (Mr. Crisp) said he thought that the trustees were rather more stringently bound than if they had been ordinary directors.

The Chairman assured the certificate holders that everything was being done in their interests. They had the assurance of Mr. Madero that the money would be forthcoming for the payment of the interest.

Sir Edward Thornton seconded the adoption of the report, which after some discussion was agreed to, and the proceedings closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

LOSS OF THE UTOPIA.

564 LIVES LOST.

Gibraltar, March 18th.

At seven o'clock yesterday evening, during a strong South Westerly gale, the Anchor Line steamship Utopia, 2,731 tons, bound from Naples for New York with about 750 Italian emigrants on board, came into collision with Her Majesty's battle-ship Anson as she was steaming up the harbour. Signals of alarm were at once fired from the fleet, and launches, pinnaces, &c., sent to render every possible assistance. It became from the first evident that there was no possible chance of saving the vessel, and the endeavours of those in the boats were directed to saving the lives of the hundreds who crowded on the deck and up the rigging of the ill-fated Utopia. The stern of the vessel filled with water a few minutes after she struck, but it was nearly half-an-hour before her bow was completely submerged. During this half hour all those on board who had succeeded in reaching the deck crowded into the bows, where they could be plainly seen from the Rock clinging to the bulwarks, the sides of the ship, the rigging, anywhere and everywhere, until at last this portion of the vessel also sank, carrying with it many who had there taken a last refuge. The scene was appalling: the cries of distress from the panic stricken passengers could be distinctly heard. The electric lights of Her Majesty's ships Anson and Rodney cast a vivid light on the sinking vessel and on the numerous launches and boats on her lee side. The passengers were in hundreds, striving every man to save himself or his family, and it was evident that the most awful struggle for life prevailed. As the bows settled down the air from the hull of the ship, driven up through the hatchways, forced volumes of water upwards, which must have washed away many who had taken refuge in the lower rigging. Others, however, who succeeded in climbing up higher, were able to maintain themselves there, as the masts and rigging of the ship remained above water. As the evening wore on the gale increased in violence, and by nine o'clock it blew a perfect hurricane. By this time, however, a number of passengers had been picked up and conveyed to ships in the vicinity, where they received every possible attention, while others were brought ashore. It was a piteous sight to see them landed, utterly exhausted, unable to walk or to give any account of themselves.

From all sides we hear of the gallantry of the men of the Channel Squadron and other boats. They vied with each other in the work of rescue, and all that could be done by our fleet and by those on shore was done to minimise this fearful catastrophe. Among the boats who rendered valuable assistance were those of the Swedish man-of-war Freya. Her Captain, Prince Bernadotte, who had 43 of the rescued passengers on board, gave up his own cabin and bed to some of the women and children.

Of the other vessels the boats of the Rodney picked up 39, those of the Anson 33, those of the Curlew 22, and those of the Camperdown 46. We hear also that the boats of the Eastern Telegraph cable-ship Amber rescued six passengers. Of the 36 who formed the crew 24, including the Captain, two officers and one steward, were saved. The vessel appears to have been struck amidships between her watertight bulkheads. We are informed by one who was on board that the lights of the Anson were plainly visible, but that the outline of the vessel was not, and it is generally supposed that the Utopia was carried, by the current and the strong wind blowing, on to the Anson. On being struck the anchor was dropped, the carpenter letting go 30 fathoms of chain. The Quarter-master tried to cut away one of the boats, but could gain no assistance, the crew being unable to work owing to the passengers clinging to them in their distress. Many were the acts of daring and bravery witnessed, amongst which we hear of a seaman of H.M.S. Rodney who, when the gale was at its height, plunged into the sea and rescued a drowning woman, and of a middy who went off in a small dingy to offer what help lay in his power.

At an early hour this morning the bodies of 6 men, 10 women and 6 children were found on the beach, and off the Line Wall 26 bodies have been recovered. It is not known exactly how many lives have been lost, but so far as can be ascertained at present out of 880 persons on board, no less than 564 have been drowned. Three hundred and sixteen men, women and children (292 passengers and 24 crew) have been saved.

We have been favoured with the following account sent to us by a correspondent who was an eye witness of what he describes:—

At about 7 o'clock in the evening the steamer was seen coming in for the anchorage and somehow she seemed to vacillate for a few moments abreast the Anson. The strong wind and tide swept her down across the battleship's bows and the ram, most probably, ripped her side open for a considerable distance before she swung clear. She then drifted down with the tide and finally sank about 60 yards clear of the Rodney and abreast of her. Boats were sent away from all the men-of-war with great promptitude and search lights were turned on to the wreck in order to assist the operations as much as possible. The shrieks and cries were heartrending and the awful sight of eight or nine hundred panic stricken people struggling for their lives was one which can never be forgotten by those who had the misfortune to witness it. The sea was so heavy that the boats could not approach the ship and all they could do was to lie to leeward of her and pick up the people as they were swept off the decks into the water. The ship settled down stern first about 5 minutes after the collision, and a small number of people found refuge in the main rigging, from which they were eventually rescued, but the majority of those in the after part were swept away. As her bows began to sink those that were left rushed forward, and, as many as could, struggled and fought their way up the fore rigging. At last in about twenty minutes the forecastle disappeared and with it crowds of unfortunate beings. The sea and rain were so blinding that it was most difficult to see anything from the boats. There then remained the people in the rigging both forward and aft to be got off. This was a work of considerable danger, on account of the heavy sea. Boat after boat went as close as possible, and picked off perhaps one or two before they were swept away, and then another, more fortunate in getting a slight lull in the sea, would rescue eight of ten. Those in the main rigging were rescued by a steam pinnace, which very cleverly veered an empty boat astern under the rigging so that the people could get into her and then haul her out again, took those saved out of her and sent her in for another load. The work of clearing the rigging was not finished until 11 o'clock and the last people taken off were so exhausted, that it was a long time before they could be got into the boats, in fact, it was found necessary for blue jackets to get out of the boats into the fore-rigging to pass them down. Where all the boats' crews, both Swedes and English, worked with such pluck and vigour it is impossible to say who was most daring. To those looking on it was a most anxious moment, when the boats were close to the ship for none could tell whether the rescuers would get the men off or be wrecked themselves.—Gibraltar Chronicle.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The representative of the East Argentine has forwarded to the Government the account of the guarantee for the year 1890, amounting to £67,517 6s. 10d.; this guarantee must be paid either in gold or in bills on London.

The Accountant-General has passed the account of $75,519 gold, the amount of the guarantee for the Pacific Railway for the half-year ending 31st December, 1890.

Messrs. Gregorio Soler & Co., the concessionaires of the railway authorised by law of the 30th Oct., 1889, have informed the Government that they are engaged on the final plans of the line which will be duly presented within the period fixed by the contract. From the numerous preliminary plans that have been made it appears that the first 70 kils. on the north of Colastine comprise a district altogether useless, not only for the construction, but also for the working of the line. The construction here would be difficult and extremely costly, whilst the revenue to be derived therefrom would be absolutely nil. The concessionaires, therefore, intimate that the final plan will include Villa Maria, Santa Fe and Colastine on the one hand, and Santa Fé and Reconquista on the other, thus avoiding the district alluded to above, and preventing the evil consequences which would otherwise accrue.

RACING NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

The Premio Abril, a 1 mile weight-for-age race, which forms the chief attraction of the very excellent programme at Belgrano to-day, has proved the first event of the year to have originated heavy betting; when we say this, it must be understood relatively. We have not yet attained the $2000 and $3000 "remates" of a couple of years ago, but "pools" of from $600 to $800 each, such as we have seen this week, are by no means to be despised, and lead to the conclusion that, so far as the turf is concerned, things are on the mend. Throughout the week the Stud Casal has firmly maintained itself in the position of favourite, and deservedly so, for its three representatives have shown themselves in good form of late; it is probable that the stable will be represented by Huron and Havre, and, with Gloriation reported an uncertain runner, we can hardly see how the blue with red spots can be beaten. The best of the remainder may turn out to be Vengador and the outsider, Diablo, who, on his best form, would prove dangerous: Colon, too, is reported smart, but this is a difficult sort of race for a young debutant.

The evil of the Argentine ante-post system of betting is that the public invariably pick out one race for speculation, and let the others, however interesting, severely alone. Consequently the remaining items on the card, of which several promise to be most exciting, have, up to now, received little, or no, attention The fact is to be deplored, but the public have the remedy in their own hands.

Our selections are:—

Premio Constancia—Ec. Titan.
" Riflero—Stud Buenos Aires
" Abril—Gloriation or Stud E. Casal
" Calandria—La Florida or Midi.
" Gloriation—Finance
" Huron—Nogoya or Ayacucho.
" Camors—Ec. Bolivar.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The week closed yesterday with a rather what-next feeling. Most people say that the plans for Bank reform now attributed to the National Government are neither fish, flesh, nor good red herring, and look very like one of the latter drawn across the scent of the next sensation, whatever that is to be. The Gold Eagle, after well considering the new plans, rose ten points.

The first nip of the autumn season was in the air yesterday, and many people had to take a nip or two to keep themselves warm. Top-coats and gloves made their appearance, and also a few red noses, as at some hours of the day the wind was quite cold.

There was an explosion in Pallo's foundry in Calle Brown yesterday morning. Several workmen were injured, but not fatally.

Dr. Hanly's numerous patients are advised that he has opened consulting rooms at 125 Florida, where he is always at home from 2 to 4 p. m.

Oh! Oh! Oh! Ex-Finance Minister Varela recommends a fresh note issue large enough not only to set the National and Provincial Banks going again, but also all the Free-and-Easy concerns up the country. This would reduce the shinplaster to the value of the label on a bottle of "gin del pais."

Lovers of light opera are well catered for just now, and can choose between the excellent Spanish company at the San Martin and the clever Italian troupe at the Alhambra, a house somewhat out of the regular theatrical beat.

Footballites don't forget the opening match of the Buenos Ayres Football Club at Flores to-day. The ball will be set rolling at 2 p.m., and a good game is expected.

The police are still amusing themselves by raiding on the Lottery offices. The owners are arrested and fined and the tickets seized; but, the fine once paid, the man goes back to his den, and the game begins again. At the head office in Montevideo they are kept informed of all the seizures of tickets here, and those forfeited by the police are never paid, should their numbers happen to be thrown out by the Wheel of Fortune and be presented for payment through any accident.

The Asilo de Huerfanos is said to be in quite as bad a plight as the Foundling Hospital. In fact all the charitable institutions under Municipal control are in a very bad way, and have been ever since the Lottery, by which they were supported for so many years, was abolished.

An esteemed contemporary calls attention to the curious fact that so long as Mr. Bollini was merely Lord Mayor "pro tem" he was almost as active and energetic as the late Don Torcuato himself in looking after city affairs; but now that he is "de facto" Chief Magistrate of the capital, he does next to nothing. What can the poor man do? The city cash-box is empty; not a sane man in town will give the Municipality credit for a cent, and his lordship's hands are therefore tied. He cannot do impossibilities.

A rise in the price of cocktails is imminent. There was a terrific krach in the famous Criterion restaurant yesterday. While one of the magnificent mirrors was being carried in, after being cleaned and touched up, the peons let it fall and it was smashed into smithereens. It cost $2,000.

The Sport Club Internacional hold a meeting at the Hipodromo Argentino at Palermo to-day which includes horse, pony, foot and trotting events, a mixed programme which is bound to prove attractive.

A funny printer's error occurs in a Rio paper, which says that the extension of the Itarare railway southwards has reached the Uruguayan frontier, and the navvies are working so hard that they throw up 120 kilometres of explanations every month. A good many railways in this part of the world require a deal of "explanations" to keep them going pleasantly; but the navvies of the Itarare line "take the cake" in respect to explanations of their excavations.

Our waggish colleague Don Quijote and his man Sancho were in all their pristine, vigorous form yesterday, with the weight of the state of siege taken from their necks. The Knight of La Mancha has his lance in rest for a sturdy tilt to save the Provincial Bank.

We are asked to call the attention of the numerous members of the Young Men's Association of the American Church to the usual meeting which will be held to-morrow evening at the rear of the Church. Its programme for the evening will consist of "Impromptu speeches" by members, and all young, and even middle-aged men will be welcomed, without standing on the formality of a special invitation to each.

In New York now it is the vogue to put the maidservants who wait into a sort of livery, like them: a dark green dress with red facings and waistcoat, and no cap or apron, is considered "chic." Some went the length of powdering the hair, but gave it up precipitately after one experiment, seeing that the maids, if at all good-looking, appeared so pretty that the mistresses were cast altogether into the shade.

The Montevideo Government is only toying (pretty much like our own) with its much talked of retrenchment, which is of the usual cheese-paring order in vogue in these latitudes when public economy is in question. The Bombero Corps over the water is only seventy men strong, yet it is proposed to reduce this small number. The newspapers almost unanimously oppose this false economy, and they are right.

We note in the Scotch papers the marriage, at Ayr, of the Rev. Mr. Strong, B.D., the popular divine who was "locum tenens" for the Rev. Mr. Fleming, B.D., here a couple of years ago. We feel much pleasure in congratulating him and his bride, wishing them a long and happy married life.

A Football match will be played today at Highfield, Belgrano (kick off at 2 p.m.) between B.A.A.F.C. and Belgrano A.F.C. The following are the teams:—B. A.: Grassich, Woolley, Moreton, Suy, Taylor, MacAdam, Thompson, Rowland, Francis, Robson, Anderson. Belgrano—Hughes, Stainforth, Lane, Davis, David, Rivers, Roberts, Dunne, Macrae, Flint and Bayne.

The Rev. Dr. Thompson, who has just returned (via Valparaiso) from his trip to Bolivia with General Osborn, says that Czar Balmaceda is anything but on his last legs, and has troops enough to give a good account of the revolutionists when the final struggle comes. His latest exploit is the marching through the streets of Santiago, with policemen on each side, of the first ladies of the city, with papers pinned on their backs bearing the words, "This is a traitress to her country." And yet Chile is a civilized country, and the pet South American State with London money bags.

There was a bit of a breeze at the meeting of the City Council on Friday, as the ediles insisted on asking the Lord Mayor's reasons for not at once dismissing the Administrator of the Corrales, who is at present being "summarized" on some grave charges. Alderman Rodriguez laid gently on the table a proposal that the tax for sweeping the streets should be abolished, as the service in question is at an end, due to the emptiness of the city till. There was a stiff debate about the proposed suppression of Health Inspectors, who were denounced as mere political agents, an impeachment which was confirmed by one of the said Inspectors who was in the gallery shouting out, "If we had interfered in the last elections none of you fellows would be sitting and prating here to-day." In the course of the shindy the Lord Mayor said that he intended to ask Congress to let him start the City Lottery again.

We are requested to remind the members of the Choral Union that the rehearsals will take place every Monday evening as usual.

An election row in Mendoza is confidently expected to-day. On Friday there was a preparatory scrimmage in which several patriots came into disagreeable and damaging contact with stones and rifle bullets.

Pampa Indians are not the safest kind of servants to have in one's house. A girl of the race put the other day a stiff dose of poison in the tea of her mistress, a lady residing in Calle Santa Fe. Fortunately, the doctor was summoned in time to spoil the undertaker's chance of a job.

Again on Friday there was further evidence that there is a shot in the La Plata Hypothecary Bank locker yet. All the numerous and valuable properties advertized for foreclosure had to be withdrawn, as the owners walked in, took off their hats, and paid up, to the last cent.

Land and Water says:—"It is no secret, that Her Majesty is terribly annoyed by the recent disclosures in connection with the Gordon-Cumming card scandal, and particularly with the widespread and fearless criticism which the incident has evoked on all sides. Lord Coventry has had an audience with the Queen on the subject, and on the 18th ult. the Prince of Wales was for nearly two hours at Windsor, and those who saw him after the interview were much struck by his very evident distress. The Queen feels most strongly upon the present case, and, indeed, if one may trust even a fraction of the reports current, Her Majesty apparently discusses the incident with unwonted freedom and emphasis."

In reference to a statement in yesterday's paper about Mr. Bieckert's new theatre and hotel at the corner of Calles Corrientes and Esmeralda, we were in error in saying that the pillars were of cast iron: they are of steel, and those for the theatre will be much larger than those already put up for the hotel. The building is being erected under the direction of Mr. Moog.

The Working Men's meeting on May 1st is to be held in Plaza Victoria. It would be as well for the police to give the sons of toil a broad hint to select some less frequented part of the city, as even the most orderly meeting in such a place on a working day would be a serious inconvenience to the public.

The crisis has caused a great increase all over the city of two kinds of establishments, one useful, the other very much the reverse. Bazaars, where all kinds of domestic odds and ends can be picked up very cheaply, do good service in these very hard times; but low "cafés chantants" where most of the "habitues" have to be nightly picked up dead drunk, or stuck with knives in a general brawl, are an outcome of the crisis that should be put down with a strong hand.

"I don't think he has been indulging too much," said his kindly-believing spouse; "but, still I thought it rather odd of him that he should have wrenched the knocker off the front door and bring it up to me as I sat in bed saying that he'd gathered another rose for me out of the garden, poor, dear, simple boy; he's just as loving and sentimental as ever he was."

Everybody was talking to-day on 'Change of the project for the reorganization of the State banks laid by President Pellegrini yesterday before the Governor of the Province, and although optimists read therein a further confirmation of their hopes that there will be no fresh emission and no more State banking opinion was pretty unanimous as to the utter impracticability of the scheme. In the first instance, the Provincial Government does not look on it with favour, and in the second instance, the depositors will neither accept debentures nor indefinite promises, and much less would they be disposed to accept shares in such a misshapen structure as the new proposed bank. Even, however, were the Provincial Government inclined to chime in with the idea, it would be manifest injustice to put the shareholders on a par with depositors, which would be the case. It would be palpably far more honest for the Provincial Government to hand the assets over to the depositors to alleviate as far as possible the great losses in prospect. Viewed in any light, the scheme is considered impossible, and but for its implied contradiction of the fresh emission rumours so persistently floated on the market, it might have been utilised as a lever by the bulls. As it was, its influence on the market was not pronounced in either sense, and the rise in the price of gold was the result of the ordinary movement of the market.

A scheme mooted and discussed in the ring proposes the formation of a new bank with native and foreign capital, the Provincial Government and National Bank entering as shareholders for the sound part of their capital to be determined by a commission of valuators, and the board to have a clear majority of Argentines. The National Government would be expected to forego its claim on the 20 millions for the benefit of the shareholders, and the new concern would be granted certain privileges in return for assuming the obligation of paying the depositors. The idea was much discussed and meets with much favor, especially amongst holders of National Bank shares.

There was still another project going the rounds of the ring to-day to settle the vexed question, and it was to effect that the National Government should be handed back its 4½ % gold bonds held by the Provincial Bank, and be thus obliged to call in the emission of the latter, which could then be given to the National Bank. Meantime the Provincial Bank, free from the restricting influence of the Free Banking Act, would be at liberty to resume its right to issue Provincial notes under its charter, which would prevent a run on the deposits. The weak feature of the scheme is that as the new notes would not be legal tender, depositors would have to be paid off in shinplasters, which would bring matters back to the old difficulty. Schemes, in fact, are plentiful as blackberries, but there can be no sound one that is not based on the practical liquidation of the State banks and a fresh start on a solid basis.

Business at the first hour was marked by a rise of one dollar since yesterday in the price of the ounce, which, opening at 55, rose to 56, fellback again

6th. The bank shall receive in payment of mortgages Cedulas of any series, provided always that the interest and amortization of the series offered be equal to or greater than that of the mortgage. In this respect the necessary steps will be taken to avert any difficulty arising from the expiry of mortgage and Cedulas at different dates.

7th. Until the dispositions of Art. 1 are complied with the tax created by Law of 26th December, 1790, on the coupons shall be suspended.

8th. The Law of 20th December, 1890, authorizing the conversion of the Cedulas for gold bonds is hereby repealed.

9th. Let this be communicated, etc.

The following commercial telegram has been received from London, giving the latest quotations of Argentine stocks in that market, which shew a sensible falling off on previous rates :—

April 17.

Bank rate, 3½ per cent.
Consols, 96¼.
Argentine 1884 Loan, 5 %, 57½.
Argentine 1886 Loan, 5 %, 72½.
Conversion of Treasury Bills, 4½ %, 62.
Argentine 1888 Gold Loan, 4½ %, 41.
Argentine 1888 Sterling Loan, 4½ %, 43.
Conversion of Hard Dollars, 1889, 3½ %, 33.
Province of Buenns Aires 1882 Loan, 5½.
National Cedulas series A, 7 %, 21½.
National Cedulas series B, 7 %, 21½.
Provincial Cedulas I, 8 %, 15.
Provincial Cedulas J, 8 %, 14.

The previous rates quoted for Cedulas were as follows :—National A 25 ; National B, 24½ ; Provincial I, 17½ ; Provincial J, 16½.

The English Bank of the River Plate draws on London at 14d. and on Paris 1.46 francs. The Bank of London and Brazil draws on London at 14d. and on Paris 1.47 francs.

Advices from Guaviyu report the slaughter of 5,000 head of cattle by the saladero up to date, and the purchase of 8,000 cows at $8 for same establishment, which is also in treaty for 3,000 novillos in Entre Rios.

Business at the second hour was a repetition of that of the morning, being marked by a further rise in gold and a fall in all stocks except Cedulas, which are well sustained. The ounce rose very steadily and closed at 57, which gives an equivalent of 350¼ and sovereigns closed with buyers at 17.70. There was no news of any importance reported, and the opinion that the Government's scheme for reorganizing the banks is impracticable seems to be more accentuated the more it is studied and discussed. In exchange little or nothing was done and brokers reported the market weak, 481 to ¼ and 5·08 to 10 francs being the quotations. The week closes on a firm gold market.

Discounts continue very difficult at 10 % for the very best signatures.

WOLSELEY SHEEP SHEARING MACHINE COMPANY LIMITED.
El Recreo, Azul, Marzo 3 de 1891.
Srs. AGAR, CROSS & CO., Calle Defensa 136.
Muy Señores Mios,
Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no queria darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera ovejas por mas fina y arrugada que sea: saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas lastimduras sanan facilmente, y se ha en cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.
Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos. Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendolas a la tijera.
Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.
